Digital Humanities is an interdisciplinary field that uses digital technologies to strengthen humanistic research. It has opened new possibilities for teaching and learning. Using Digital Humanities in the classroom is meant to incorporate new digital approaches and tools into studies. It assures both students and teachers that they will be able to learn new kinds of learning outcomes that touches a pedagogical height. Vernacular languages in Assam have an ample scope to develop digital consciousness among students and teachers through study of Digital Humanities. Keeping an eye on NEP 2020 the Bengali department of Pragjyotish College have arranged the two-day workshop on 'Use of Tools in Digital Humanities' which will surely help the participants to build up an workforce for future academic activities. We invite you to join hands with us and participate in this workshop.

Principal, Pragjyotish College
